

Company History

Last Updated Friday, 17 August 2007

Seal Tech Refrigeration was founded by George David Pina. He first started in the refrigeration industry by working in the door department for a Boston walk-in cooler manufacturer in September 1978. In November 1989, he relocated to San Diego, California.

He began working for a San Diego refrigeration company installing walk-ins and providing custom repairs on equipment that was usually condemned. Recognizing the need for this type of repair service, G. David Pina officially opened the doors to Seal Tech Refrigeration in March 1990.

This new line of services proved to be highly valuable and necessary. Beginning in 1978 until the end of time, George and his team stand firmly behind the work we do. Clients have consistently agreed that Seal Tech Refrigeration always exceeds the clients' expectations.